You know best.
Know EARLY.

You know your baby best. If you are worried that your child is not reaching important developmental milestones, like crawling, babbling, or smiling by a certain age, it's best to know EARLY.

Don't wait to find out if your baby is on track in their physical growth, brain development, social-emotional skills, and in meeting other important milestones.

It's never too early to call Alabama's Early Intervention System.
